

Scott Findley focuses his legal practice on the telecommunications and software fields, and primarily supports complex patent litigation. Scott has extensive experience in software development and reverse-engineering, developed across a decade of service in the United States Navy and United States Intelligence Community. Scott leverages this experience to help clients navigate intricate technical and legal issues to accomplish their goals.

Scott is an avid car enthusiast and enjoys tabletop gaming.

EDUCATION

Stanford Law School, JD - 2025
Naval Postgraduate School, MS in Computer Science - 2019
Georgia Southern University, BS in Criminology - 2012

BAR ADMISSIONS

Minnesota - Pending Admission, 2025

ADDITIONAL QUALIFICATIONS

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES

REPRESENTATIVE CASES

EVENTS &
PUBLICATIONS

RECOGNITION